

OV daily devotions DAY EIGHT (Saturday - 6/15/19)

Preparing Your Heart to Home

It's always fun to get home after a long trip. We've really had some highlights this week and have had a chance to see how God is working in other places. As exciting as it has been, I hope you're ready to face home and all the challenges that come with living there.

It's easy to live for Christ when you're surrounded by close friends who are a lot like you. On the other hand, it's quite a different thing when you're in a situation alone that demands you take a stand for Christ.

You're going to have to take what you've experienced and apply it to life at home. You've seen God do some amazing things this week. This is the same God you serve in Easley. Expect to see that same type of results at home.

You've recommitted yourself to being more faithful in your walk with the Lord. This will demand accountability when you get home. You will have to ask yourself some tough questions in the morning or at night when it's time for your quiet time. You'll need the support of your friends from youth choir to insure that you're following through on the promises you made on tour.

It's very likely that you're taking home a treasure chest of memories from the Bridge Tour 2011. These can serve as altars to these life-changing moments on tour. Reflect on them. Remember how you felt when you sensed God's presence. Recall the promises you made. Share these memories with one another so that your friends can encourage you when you need it at home.

Are you looking forward to getting home? _____ Why?

What do you dread about returning to Easley? _____

What will be your greatest spiritual challenge at home?

What is your greatest “holy” moment on tour? _____

How do you think it can help you stay on track at home? _____

Who is waiting at home who needs to hear about Jesus? _____
